SUBJECT: CLYDE WEBER

INTERVIEW SUMMARY

SUBJECT: Clyde Weber

Mr. Weber stated that he operated Steger Industrial Paint Stripping Company at 434 E. 21st Street, Chicago Heights, IL from March 1977 until 1988/89. The company began in the brick section on the west side of the property. He later built the addition on the north side of the property. The company had one process line in the brick section with removed rust from parts for use at the Ford plant on U.S. 30. The process used sodium hydroxide and sodium gluconate. He had only one process tank which is still in the brick section. The building had no underground storage tanks. Prior to Mr. Weber purchasing the building a metal processing business of some type was located at this property. Mr. Weber believes they did work for AMSCO in Chicago Heights that may have had something to do with welding rods. Mr. Weber stated that Aid Chemical another business of his only received mail at this location. Aid Chemical produced a stainless steel cleaner which was mixed and stored at Kingsbury, IN. The cabinet company next door would store fiberboard and masonite in the addition he built and at one time he was going to use this area to bale cardboard however the baler he built would not work.
